The bishops themselves . . . having been appointed by the Holy Spirit, are successors of the Apostles as pastors of souls. Together with the supreme pontiff and under his authority they are sent to continue throughout the ages the work of Christ, the eternal pastor. Christ gave the Apostles and their successors the command and the power to teach all nations, to hallow men in the truth, and to feed them. Bishops, therefore, have been made true and authentic teachers of the faith, pontiffs, and pastors through the Holy Spirit, who has been given to them.

Prelude

Psalm 100

Knut Nystedt

*Make a joyful noise to the Lord!
Serve the Lord with gladness!
Come into his presence with singing!
Know that the Lord is God!
He has made us, we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture.*

*Go through his gates with thanksgiving, enter his courts with praise!
Give thanks to him, bless his name!*

*For the Lord is good;
His steadfast love endures for ever
and his faithfulness to all generations!*

*Make a joyful noise to the Lord!
Serve the Lord with gladness!
Come into his presence with singing!
Know that the Lord is good,
his love endures forever,
and his faithfulness to all generations!*

Text: Psalm 100. Music: Knut Nystedt.

Variations on an Original Theme, Op.36, Variation IX: Adagio

Edward Elgar

Strengthen for Service

Leo Nestor

*Strengthen for service, Lord, the hands
That holy things have taken;
Let ears that now have heard thy songs
To clamor never waken.*

*Lord, may the tongues which 'Holy' sang
Keep free from all deceiving;
The eyes which saw Thy love be bright Thy blessed hope perceiving.*

*Feet that have tread Thy holy courts
From light do thou not banish;
The bodies by Thy body fed
With Thy new life replensih.*

Text: Syriac Liturgy of Malabar (5th century). Music: Leo Nestor.

There's A Wideness In God's Mercy

Calvin Hampton

*There's a wideness in God's mercy Like the wideness of the sea; There's a kindness in his justice Which is more than liberty.
There is plentiful redemption In the blood that has been shed; There is joy for all the members In the sorrows of the Head.*

For the love of God is broader Than the measures of our mind, And the heart of the Eternal Is most wonderfully kind. If our love were but more simple We should take him at his word, And our lives would be all sunshine In the sweetness of the Lord.

Fearful souls, why will you scatter Like a crowd of frightened sheep? Foolish hearts, why will you wander From a love so true and deep? There is welcome for the sinner and more graces for the good; There is mercy with the Savior, There is healing in his blood.

Text: Frederick W. Faber (1814–1863). Tune: ST. HELENA, Calvin Hampton

Douze Pièces pour Orgue—1. Prélude

Théodore Dubois

Bishop Holley invites all present to consecrate themselves to the Immaculate Heart of Mary.

O most pure heart of Mary, full of goodness, show your love towards us. Let the flame of your heart, O Mary, descend on all people. We love you immensely. Impress on our hearts true love so that we may long for you. O Mary, gentle and humble of heart, remember us when we sin. You know that all people sin. Grant that through your most pure and motherly heart, we may be healed from every spiritual sickness. Grant that we may always experience the goodness of your motherly heart, and that through the flame of your heart we may be converted. Amen

FIRST READING — Proclaimed in EnglishIsaiah 61:1–3a

*The Lord has anointed me;
he has sent me to bring glad tidings to the lowly.*

El espíritu del Señor está sobre mí, porque me ha ungido
y me ha enviado para anunciar la buena nueva a los pobres,
a curar a los de corazón quebrantado,
a proclamar el perdón a los cautivos,
y la libertad a los prisioneros;

a pregonar el año de gracia del Señor,
el día de la venganza de nuestro Dios.

El Señor me ha enviado a consolar a los afligidos,
los afligidos de Sión,
a cambiar su ceniza en diadema.

At the end of the reading,

Lector The Word of the Lord.

All Thanks be to God.

Bringing about the body's growth, building it up in love.

Brothers and sisters:

Christ gave some as Apostles, others as prophets, others as evangelists, others as pastors and teachers, to equip the holy ones for the work of ministry, for building up the Body of Christ, until we all attain to the unity of faith and knowledge of the Son of God, to mature manhood, to the extent of the full stature of Christ, so that we may no longer be infants, tossed by waves and swept along by every wind of teaching arising from human trickery, from their cunning in the interests of deceitful scheming.

Rather, living the truth in love, we should grow in every way into him who is the head, Christ, from whom the whole Body, joined and held together by every supporting ligament, with the proper functioning of each part, brings about the Body's growth and builds itself up in love.

At the end of the reading,

Lector The Word of the Lord.

All Thanks be to God.

I chose you and appointed you to go and bear fruit that will remain.

The Lord be with you. And with your spir - it.

A reading from the holy Gospel according to John. Glory to you, O Lord.

En aquel tiempo, Jesús dijo a sus discípulos:
“Como el Padre me ama, así los amo yo.
Permanezcan en mi amor. Si cumplen mis mandamientos, permanecen en mi amor; lo mismo que yo cumplo los mandamientos de mi Padre y permanezco en su amor. Les he dicho esto para que mi alegría esté en ustedes y su alegría sea plena.

Este es mi mandamiento: que se amen los unos a los otros como yo los he amado.
Nadie tiene amor más grande a sus amigos que el que da la vida por ellos.

Ustedes son mis amigos, si hacen lo que yo les mando. Ya no los llamo siervos, porque el siervo no sabe lo que hace su amo; a ustedes los llamo amigos, porque les he dado a conocer todo lo que le he oído a mi Padre.

No son ustedes los que me han elegido, soy yo quien los ha elegido y los ha destinado para que vayan y den fruto y su fruto permanezca, de modo que el Padre les conceda cuanto le pidan en mi nombre. Esto es lo que les mando: que se amen los unos a los otros”.

At the end of the reading,

The Gospel of the Lord. Praise to you, Lord Je - sus Christ.

Guidelines for Receiving Communion

For Catholics

As Catholics, we fully participate in the celebration of the Eucharist when we receive Holy Communion. We are encouraged to receive Communion devoutly and frequently. In order to be properly disposed to receive Communion, participants should not be conscious of grave sin and normally should have fasted for one hour. A person who is conscious of grave sin is not to receive the Body and Blood of the Lord without prior sacramental confession except for a grave reason where there is no opportunity for confession. In this case, the person is to be mindful of the obligation to make an act of perfect contrition, including the intention of confessing as soon as possible (canon 916). A frequent reception of the Sacrament of Penance is encouraged for all.

For our fellow Christians

We welcome our fellow Christians to this celebration of the Eucharist as our brothers and sisters. We pray that our common baptism and the action of the Holy Spirit in this Eucharist will draw us closer to one another and begin to dispel the sad divisions which separate us. We pray that these will lessen and finally disappear, in keeping with Christ's prayer for us "that they may all be one" (Jn 17:21).

Because Catholics believe that the celebration of the Eucharist is a sign of the reality of the oneness of faith, life, and worship, members of those churches with whom we are not yet fully united are ordinarily not admitted to Holy Communion. Eucharistic sharing in exceptional circumstances by other Christians requires permission according to the directives of the diocesan bishop and the provisions of canon law (canon 844 §4). Members of the Orthodox Churches, the Assyrian Church of the East, and the Polish National Catholic Church are urged to respect the discipline of their own Churches. According to Roman Catholic discipline, the Code of Canon Law does not object to the reception of Communion by Christians of these Churches (canon 844 §3).

For those not receiving Holy Communion

All who are not receiving Holy Communion are encouraged to express in their hearts a prayerful desire for unity with the Lord Jesus and with one another.

For non-Christians

We also welcome to this celebration those who do not share our faith in Jesus Christ. While we cannot admit them to Holy Communion, we ask them to offer their prayers for the peace and the unity of the human family.

2. "With my chosen one I have made a covenant; I have sworn to David my servant: I will establish your descendants forever, and set up your throne through all ages."
3. The heavens praise your wonders, O Lord, your fidelity in the assembly of your holy ones, of your holy ones.
4. How blessed the people who know your praise, who walk, O Lord, in the light of your face, who find joy ev'ry day in your name.
5. For you are the glory of their strength; by your favor it is that our might is exalted. Behold the Lord is our shield; he is the Holy One of Israel, our king.

benedicta tu in mulieribus
et benedictus fructus ventris tui, Jesus.*

Et verbum caro factum est et habitavit in nobis.

*Ave Maria, gratia plena, Dominus tecum,
benedicta tu in mulieribus
et benedictus fructus ventris tui, Jesus.*

Sancta Maria, mater Dei, ora pro nobis peccatoribus. Sancta Maria, ora pro nobis nunc et in hora mortis nostrae. Amen.

Ave Maria (Angelus Domini)

*The Angel of the Lord declared unto Mary,
And she conceived of the Holy Spirit*

*Hail Mary, full of grace, the Lord is with you,
blessed are you among women,
and blessed is the fruit of your womb, Jesus.*

Mary said: Behold, I am the Lord's handmaid, let it be done to me according to your word.

*Hail Mary, full of grace, the Lord is with you,
blessed are you among women,
and blessed is the fruit of your womb, Jesus.*

*And the word was made flesh,
and dwelt among us.*

*Hail Mary, full of grace, the Lord is with you,
blessed are you among women,
and blessed is the fruit of your womb, Jesus.*

Holy Mary, mother of God, pray for us sinners. Holy Mary, pray for us now and at the hour of our death. Amen.

POSTLUDE

I. Allegro di molto, Symphony No. 1—Mendelssohn
Your Grace Is Enough—Maher

Bishop Holley invites all present to silently pray the prayer to St. Michael.

Saint Michael, the Archangel, defend us in battle. Be our safeguard against the wickedness and snares of the devil. May God rebuke him, we humbly pray; and do you, O Prince of the heavenly host, by the power of God cast into hell Satan and all the evil spirits who wander through the world seeking the ruin of souls. Amen.

Bishop Holley invites all present to join him in continuing the celebration of his installation. Following the Mass, a reception will be held in the adjacent hall, where the Bishop will receive his guests.

HIS EXCELLENCY
FIFTH BISHOP OF MEMPHIS IN TENNESSEE

On October 19, 2016, the Most Reverend Martin David Holley was installed as the fifth bishop of the Catholic Diocese of Memphis in Tennessee. He succeeds Bishop J. Terry Steib, S.V.D., who served from 1993–2016. Previous bishops were Most Reverend Daniel M. Buechlein, O.S.B. (1987–1992), Most Reverend James Francis Stafford (1982–1986) and the founding bishop, Most Reverend Carroll Thomas Dozier (1970–1982).

Bishop Martin D. Holley was born on December 31, 1954 in Pensacola, Florida. The eighth of 14 children, Bishop Holley attended Catholic elementary schools; was captain of the basketball team at Tate High School and a member of the school's Hall of Fame. He also attended Faulkner State Junior College in Bay Minette, Alabama; and Alabama State University in Montgomery, Alabama. He received a Bachelor of Science degree in 1977.

Having felt the call to the priesthood from a young age, Bishop Holley attended Theological College in Washington, D.C. and completed his seminary studies at St. Vincent de Paul Seminary in Boynton Beach, Florida. He was ordained a priest of the Diocese of Pensacola-Tallahassee on May 8, 1987.

Father Holley's first assignment was parochial vicar of St. Mary Catholic Church in Ft. Walton Beach, Florida where he later became administrator. He also served at St. Paul Catholic Church and Little Flower Catholic Church, both in Pensacola. During his seventeen years in Pensacola, he served on the Council of Priests, including two terms as chairman. He also served as a Tribunal Advocate, spiritual director of the Serra Club of West Florida and spiritual director and instructor for the permanent diaconate program. He served on the Diocesan Commission for Catholic Schools and was the director of the Department of Ethnic Concerns. He has been a member of the Joint Conference of the National Black Catholic Clergy Caucus since 1983.

Named an auxiliary bishop for the Archdiocese of Washington by Pope John Paul II, his episcopal ordination on July 2, 2004 at the Cathedral of St. Matthew the Apostle in Washington, D.C. Having developed a great devotion to St. Faustina and the message of Divine Mercy during his years as a priest, Bishop Holley chose "His Mercy Endures" as his episcopal motto.

While in the Washington Archdiocese, Bishop Holley served on a number of committees for the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops, including the Committee on Laity, Marriage, Family Life and Youth; Pro-Life Activities; and National Collections; as well as the Subcommittee for Hispanic Affairs. He also served on numerous committees for Cultural Diversity; and Communications; as well as subcommittees for Africa; African-American Catholics; Bishop's Ministry and Life; Laity, Women, Children and Youth; and Migration. He has been on the Board of Catholic Relief Services and is the immediate past Chaplain of the Knights of St. Peter Claver. Bishop Holley was a member of the Washington InterFaith Network, International Catholic Foundation for the Service of Deaf People and Catholic Athletes for Christ.

As Vicar General for the Archdiocese of Washington, Bishop Holley served on the boards of the D.C. Catholic Conference, Maryland Catholic Conference and Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of Washington. He was a member of the Archdiocesan College of Consultors, Presbyteral Council, Seminarian Review Board, Administrative Board, and was Chairman for the College of Deans overseeing the fourteen deaneries in the Archdiocese of Washington. As Moderator of Ethnic Ministries, Bishop Holley also oversaw the pastoral needs of all the ethnic and language communities within the archdiocese.

On August 23, 2016, Pope Francis appointed Bishop Holley to be the fifth bishop of the Catholic Diocese of Memphis in Tennessee.

BISHOP OF MEMPHIS IN TENNESSEE

*Quarterly gules and azure; a plowshare affronté argent;
on a chief wavy or, a fleur-de-lis of the second.*

The Arms of Bishop Martin D. Holley consist of a shield quartered red and blue, charged with a plowshare in silver (white). The ‘chief,’ or upper portion of the shield, is gold (yellow) with a wavy base. The chief is charged with a blue fleur-de-lis.

The colors red and blue have long been associated in the West and in heraldry with Our Lord and the Blessed Virgin. The blue fleur-de-lis on honors Our Lady in a special manner. Red and blue are also the predominant colors of the coat of arms of the Archdiocese of Washington, where Bishop Holley served for many years.

The silver (white) plowshare recalls the admonition of Our Lord to those who put their hand to the plow not to look back (Luke 9:62). This is especially true for those called to the priestly vocation. That the plowshare is centered in the quartered shield emphasizes that the priestly life is associated with the cross. A further significance of the plowshare is that it commemorates the Bishop’s forebears on the maternal side of the family who were sharecroppers. Cotton was among their crops; thus the silver tincture of the plowshare.

The gold chief refers to the Bishop’s mother, Mary Elizabeth, who, prior to her death, mentioned when she got to heaven she would shine as bright as the sun. When her mortal remains were being removed from the family home, a shaft of gold (yellow) light shone through the front door and three eagles circled overhead. One of Mrs. Holley’s favorite hymns was “On Eagle’s Wings” by Michael Joncas.

The wavy demarcation below the gold chief recalls Pensacola, Florida, on the Gulf of Mexico, the city of Bishop Holley’s priestly life, and his family home.

The colors blue and gold also honor Pope John Paul II, whose arms bore a gold cross on a blue field. The arms of Theodore Cardinal McCarrick, Archbishop emeritus of Washington, who ordained Bishop Holley to the episcopacy, bear a gold cross on a red field. Red and gold are also the colors of the arms of Donald Cardinal Wuerl, under whom Bishop Holley has served in recent years.

Below the shield is displayed the Bishop’s motto, in Latin,

IN AETERNUM MISERICORDIA EIUS

a brief statement found in Psalm 107 and Psalm 136 that proclaims a message of hope: “His mercy endures forever.”

Behind the coat of arms is placed a gold (yellow) episcopal cross. Over the whole achievement is a pontifical hat with its six tassels on each side disposed in three rows, all green. The cross and the hat with tassels are the heraldic insignia of a bishop. Before 1870, the pontifical hat was worn at solemn processions held in conjunction with Papal ceremonies. The color of the hat and the number of tassels are signs of the rank of the prelate, a custom still preserved in ecclesiastical heraldry.

The Arms of Bishop Holley were devised by A. W. C. Phelps, of Cleveland, Ohio, in consultation with The Most Reverend Martin David Holley, D.D., in June 2004. In consultation with Bishop Holley, modifications were made by Rev. George E. Stuart in September 2016, after the Bishop had been appointed to be the Bishop of Memphis.

OF

Gules; a Coptic cross argent; on a chief of the second, two barrulets wavy azure; issuant from the base, six coupeaux of the second.

The coat of arms of the Diocese of Memphis has a red field with six small hills in silver (white) at the bottom, from the arms of Pope Paul VI, who established the diocese. At the top of the shield, two wavy blue bands on a “chief” of silver represent the Mississippi and Tennessee rivers. A silver cross of the style used by Christians in the land of the Diocese’s namesake city of Memphis, links brothers and sisters in the faith of both regions to each other, and to the Church worldwide in the time of the new evangelization.

THE COATS OF ARMS
AND
THE DIOCESE OF MEMPHIS IN TENNESSEE

A Bishop “impales” his coat of arms with that of the Diocese entrusted to his care by placing them side by side on the same shield. The Church’s custom, derived from the practice of a husband and wife impaling their arms, recalls the spousal relationship between a Bishop and his Diocese, which is signified also by his episcopal ring.

In ecclesiastical heraldry, the Diocese’s arms are placed on the “dexter” side (observer’s left), while the Bishop’s arms are placed on the “sinister” side (observer’s right).
