

Unison.

1. O Queen of sor - rows, weep - ing Rose That blooms at Heaven's door,
2. O sin - less Ma - ry, hum - ble maid And good St. Jo - seph's bride,
3. O The - o - to - kos, bear - ing God In lone - ly cat - tle - stall,
4. O Sov'reign La - dy, Wis - dom high, Whose head with stars is crowned,
5. O ho - ly Mother, throned a - bove, We seek You none - the - less;
6. Hail Ma - ry, spot - less Bloom that grows En - twined at Heaven's door;

1. How stead - i - ly your sad - ness grows When we, your children, dare op - pose
2. When ea - ger souls for sil - ver trade These minds and bod - ies God has made,
3. The un - born in - no - cents we trod In si - lence, now with an - gels laud
4. In word and deed we would de - ny Our fam - i - ly be - neath the sky,
5. Help us to lis - ten and to love, To be o - be - dient ser - vants of
6. We pray to You, O sumptuous Rose, To see the day the whole world knows

1. The God whom once You bore And wound you more and more.
2. Your Son, who will - ing died, A - new is cru - ci - fied.
3. Their Friend and Lord of all, De - fend - er of the small.
4. The seat of God, Who found In E - den wel - come ground.
5. Our Je - sus, and to bless The God Whom we con - fess.
6. And loves the God You bore, That You might weep no more.

Text: © 2020 Anna Bendiksen

Music: REPTON 86 88 6, Arranged from the oratorio Judith by Charles Hubert Hastings Parry (1848-1918)