From her earliest days, the Roman Church has clothed her worship with Gregorian Chant.

Through the centuries she has safeguarded the chant as her own unique form of music, and through those same strains she continues to teach and pray, mourn and rejoice in her liturgy. For these reasons, Gregorian Chant is the "supreme model for sacred music" (Pope Pius X) and the music proper to the Roman Church. Chant is the one music that we inherit from the ancient church fathers. It is not a "style" but the music of the Mass itself. It is sung in unison, which makes it a perfect expression of unity. It illuminates and gives expressiveness to the sacred texts, but does not alter them. It musically expresses the heart of the Church and thus exists across and outside time.
